Adaptive control system working in real environment, based on the functional systems theory

Putintsev N.I.[1], Isupov O.V.[1], Vityaev E.E.[1,2]

[1] Novosibirsk state university, Novosibirsk, putintsevnikita@gmail.com
[2] Sobolev institute of mathematics SB RAS, Novosibirsk, vityaev@math.nsc.ru

Annotation. Based on the functional systems theory, the animat was developed that use continues and real signals of sensors and also functioning in real time. Animat was tested in virtual environment and as robotю. In both cases, it performs a good result. In experiments with robot it was tested the possibility to solve the real tasks in physical environment.